The September issue of the Messenger has several well-written articles including one by Jeremy Ashworth, former pastor at Lincolnshire who is now the pastor at the Circle of Peace Church in Peoria, Ariz. Jeremy has always been a strong proponent of outreach and hospitality as you may recall us doing many neighborhood walks, parking lot events, etc. while he was at Lincolnshire. He writes about his church being selected as a site of the wildly popular mobile app or smart-phone video game, "Pokémon Go" and the way in which it serves to extend the hand of hospitality in a world that is often violent and ugly. Copies of his article are available in the church office or at the hospitality table.

Do you know that Lincolnshire is a site for Pokémon Go? Look around...see if you can find the sign!
