Gerry Westerfield and his quilt.

Last Sunday afternoon, we stopped by to say “Hello” to Gerry. He was sitting in his chair, wrapped in his “Lincolnshire Quilt.” His daughter Lane and son Martin remarked that he keeps it on his lap ALL the time. And Gerry wanted us to see how he keeps the corner displaying the Quilter’s label always UP where he can see the wording. You can see the label by his right arm at his elbow. He wanted to make sure it was in the picture. How precious are the fingers of those who sewed the stitches, how precious is the love of this Lincolnshire family that is in each stitch!

And we are put on earth,
 A little space,
 That we learn to bear the beams of love.
